An entire music career, run by one agent.

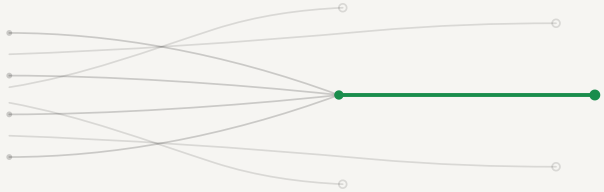

Lisnin owns the distribution, publishing, websites and promotion rails — so the AI Manager executes a career instead of advising on it.

| 80K+ | $200K+ | Month 7–8 | $5.4B |
|---|---|---|---|
| Community, built before the product | Moved to artists pre-product, zero paid acquisition | Breakeven on subscription revenue alone, ~1,140 subs | Addressable market across independent distribution, publishing and marketing |

THE PROBLEM

A career built on fragments.

A working artist is their own label, publisher, marketer and manager — stitching a dozen services together and paying for most of them.

ONE PLATFORM · ONE LOGIN · ONE BILL

THE AI MANAGER

It doesn't advise. It operates.

FIVE OWNED RAILS · ONE SUBSCRIPTION

RAIL 01
Distribution
150+ stores, 0% commission, unlimited releases, Dolby Atmos.

RAIL 02
Publishing
Collected worldwide. The artist keeps 85%.

RAIL 03
Earkitz Websites
A site that fills itself from catalogue, streams and press.

RAIL 04
Contact Directory
Thousands of vetted contacts. The pitch goes out as the artist.

RAIL 05
Listening Parties
Discord-native. One token, one listener. 75% of spend goes to them.

Every competitor's agent can only recommend or access a single feature on each platform. Lisnin's AI Manager executes everything in one place.

THE FLYWHEEL

01 Distribute — live on 150+ stores.
02 Verify — streaming and royalty data accrues on-platform.
03 List — verified data underwrites a listing, Month 16.
04 Raise — artists with traction raise from the community.

Marketplace eligibility requires distributing on Lisnin — the switching incentive no competitor can copy.

PRICING · THE SAME STACK COSTS $400–500

Publishing admin takes 15% of what we actually collect — the rest hits the artist's bank account directly.

Imagine a world where musicians can simply focus on making the music – and not on operating a business in one of the most confusing markets there is.

Some artists find a manager and the job gets easier. Most never will. Every artist deserves the infrastructure anyway.
